- 2. Our 94.81% revenue is generated from Google Asia Pacific Pte Ltd., by way of 'Contextual Advertisements' on our website and from our YouTube Channel. If any party defaults in making the payment in the chain, then it may affect our financial position and ability to grow business in future.

Currently, we derive 94.81% of our revenue from the Google Asia Pacific Pte Ltd. by way of Contextual Advertisements. All the revenue earned through contextual advertising depends on the amount paid by the advertiser to Google for display of ad on Website or via YouTube Channel.

Google then allocates ads to all the websites where the users have searched for solutions that advertisers deal in. If any default is made by the advertiser or Google itself, then it may affect our financial position along with our ability to grow our business in the future and attract new customers.

- 3. All the revenue payments received from Google Asia Pacific Pte Ltd. are calculated by Google itself and we can't verify such amount by any means. Thus, any error, omission or defaults in factors considered by Google while estimation of revenue may affect our financial position and ability to grow business in future.

Our website is registered at Google AdSense which helps us earn our revenue through means of Contextual Advertising. It should be noted that all the revenue payments received by us from Google are 100% calculated by Google considering various factors such as Advertisement Campaign, amount of advertiser, no. of users visiting the website, no. of users clicking on the ads displayed on the website etc.

Please note that, Google does not share the means by which it arrives at the amount it pays us. Thus, our inability on calculation of revenue may involve a risk of major fluctuation in our payments and that may affect our financial position and ability to grow business in future.

- 4. Our current revenue that we receive from Google Asia Pacific Pte Ltd. is exposed foreign currency exchange risk.

Our company earns 94.81% of its revenue from Contextual Advertising on its website through Google AdSense and also via its YouTube channel. The company receives all the payments from Google Asia Pacific Pte Ltd. which transfers the amount through a wire transfer. Such amount may be subject to foreign exchange risk. The company makes no arrangement to hedge above risk and thus our revenue may be affected adversely by any unfavorable change in our currency exchange rate w.r.t. foreign currency.

- 5. We require a number of approvals, licenses, registrations and permits in the ordinary course of our business. Some of the approvals are required to be updated consequent to the change in the address of the company. Any failure or delay in obtaining the same in a timely manner may adversely affect our operations.

We require a number of approvals, licenses, registrations and permits in ordinary course of our business. Additionally, we need to apply for renewal of approvals which expire, from time to time, as and when required in the ordinary course. Also, our registered office was change from Plot no. 66, 3rd Floor, Vamsiram's Jyoti Celestia, Kavuri Hills Lane, Phase – 2, Opp. Police Station, Madhapur, Hyderabad, Guttla Begumpet Village, Hyderabad – 500 081, Telangana consequent to this change, we need to update the same in various approvals, license and registrations in the ordinary course of our business. We shall be taking necessary steps for transferring the approvals in new address of our company. In case we fail to transfer/renew/obtain the same in name of the company same may adversely affect our business or we may not be able to carry our business.

6. We depend on certain brand names and our corporate name and logo that we may not be able to protect and/or maintain.

Our ability to provide our solutions depends upon the recognition of our brand names and associated consumer goodwill. Currently, we have applied for trademark of our logo under the Trade Marks Act, 1999. Consequently, we do not enjoy the statutory protections accorded to registered trademarks in India for all the logos of our company, the status of which is shown below. In the absence of approval of our application, competitors and other companies may challenge the validity or scope of our intellectual property right over these brands or our corporate name or logo.

As a result, we may be required to invest significant resources in developing new brands or names, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

There is no guarantee that the application for registration of our logo will be accepted in favor of the Company. This may affect our ability to protect our trademark in the event of any infringement of our intellectual property. The details of trademark/logo used by the company are as under:

Sr No	Description	Word/ Label Mark	Applicant	Application Number	Date of Filing	Status
1	 tutorialspoint SIMPLY EASY LEARNING	Device	Tutorials Point (India) Limited	4017889	05/12/2018	Objected
2		Device	Tutorials Point (India) Limited	4025004	12/12/2018	Registered

In addition to same, our failure to comply with existing or increased regulations, or the introduction of changes to existing regulations, could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. We cannot assure you that the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits issued to us would not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action.

The material approvals, licenses or permits required for our business include trade license, fire licenses, excise and tax laws and shops and establishment licenses, as applicable. See “Government and other Statutory Approvals” on page 248 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus for further details on the required material approvals for the operation of our business.

7. Our company may face time / cost overrun issues in implementing its Tutorix project, which is proposed to be made operational by part financing through the IPO proceeds.

As per our company estimates, the commercial operations for the Tutorix project is scheduled to start from FY 2019 – 20. The Company has launched Tutorix for 6th standard in late May 2019 and expects launch dates for 7th and 8th standard to be July 2019 and November 2019, respectively. Further, classes / standards are proposed to be launch in FY 2020 – 2021. In case of any future event which may lead to any change in the proposed project, there may be delay in the implementation of the project further leading to cost overrun issues or in case of occurrence of such events, it may affect our growth plans and financial performance.

8. Our business is subject to seasonal volatility, which may contribute to fluctuations in our results of operations and financial condition.

Our company is an online education service provider that works towards publishing high quality educational content, notes, videos & resources to technical students as well as IT professionals worldwide. As compared to normal usage by viewers, our website users usually shoot up during the examinations period. The users during period October to March are usually higher than the users in other months. Accordingly, our revenue in one quarter may not accurately reflect the revenue trend for the whole Financial Year. This seasonality in education industry and its impacts may cause fluctuations in our results of operations and financial conditions

- 9. *We have a limited operating history in a new market at the intersection of the rapidly evolving technology and e-learning and our historical operating & financial results may not be indicative of future performance, which makes it difficult to predict our future business prospects and financial performance.

We have a limited operating history, which makes it difficult to evaluate our future prospects. We have launched our Tutorix app in the first quarter of FY 2019 – 20. Tutorix is an engaging video learning kit for Math & Science for students that aims to make learning fun and easier. It offers an engaging educational kit for Math & Science for 6th – 12th classes along with IIT-JEE & NEET exams preparation and collaborates students, tutors and parents to enrich the learning experience at an affordable cost. Therefore, we operate at the intersection of technology and education industries, both of which are rapidly evolving.

This new product lets the company to enter into a Freemium model of revenue rather than just being dependent on ‘Contextual Advertising’, which currently accounts for approx. 95% of our revenue.

However, we cannot assure you that we can successfully implement our business model. As the market and our business develop, we may modify our platform, products and services. These changes may not achieve expected results and may have a material and adverse impact on our results of operations and financial condition. Although, due to our limited operating history, our past revenues and historical growth rate may not be indicative of our future performance. We cannot assure you that we will be able to achieve similar results or grow at the same rate as we had in the past or at all. Rather than relying on our historical operating and financial results to evaluate us, you should consider our business prospects in light of the risks and difficulties we may encounter as an early-stage company operating in a new market, including, among other things, our ability to expand our user base and convert non-paying users into paying users, provide high – quality products and services, enhance our technology and data capabilities, build our reputation and promote our brand, improve our operational efficiency, attract, retain and motivate talented employees, and anticipate and adapt to changing market conditions. We may not be able to successfully address these risks and difficulties, which could significantly harm our business, results of operations and financial condition.

- 10. *We may suffer loss of income if our products/services are duplicated by our competitors.

As our industry is content oriented, there is constant need for updating and innovation. Our success highly depends upon the adaptability of changing learning patterns and technology as per the latest trends and the acceptance of the products / services in the market. If any of our products / services hits the market and receives overwhelming response, our competitors may tend to copy our product to increase their market share and revenues and take due advantage; thus, hampering our market. Since our services are not registered, we may not be able to claim our rights over it and could suffer loss of income thereby affecting our operations and our results of operations.

- 11. *Our industry is personnel intensive and our business operations may be materially adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages or increased salaries demands by our employees or content creators.

Our industry being Staff intensive is highly dependent on trained technical staff for development & creation of content published on the website. Shortage of skilled personnel or work stoppages caused by disagreements with employees could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Our Company has taken efforts to maintain a lower attrition among the employees by facilitating them with various in-house facilities. We have not experienced any major disruptions in our business operations due to disputes or other problems with our work force in the past; however, there can be no assurance that we will not experience such disruptions in the future. Such disruptions may adversely affect our business and results of operations and may also divert the management's attention and result in increased costs.

India has stringent labour legislation that protects the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for the establishment of unions, dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment.

We are also subject to laws and regulations governing relationships with employees, in such areas as minimum wage and maximum working hours, overtime, working conditions, hiring and terminating of employees and work permits. Although our employees are not currently unionized, there can be no assurance that they will not unionize in the future. If our employees unionize, it may become difficult for us to maintain flexible employee's policies, and we may face the threat of employee's unrest, work stoppages and diversion of our management's attention due to union intervention, which may have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

12. Our entire servers for the www.tutorialspoint.com are situated at the Data Centre operated by Hetzner Inc. situated in Germany; and are kept at the Germany facility. We also have a server located in India, which is used for minimal downtime and optimum speed. Having servers kept with single vendor and with predominantly in one facility can impact our operations and performance significantly in various situations

- (i) Risk due to some natural or unnatural calamity on the facility- earthquake, flood and others.
- (ii) Single location risk- all our servers are located out of Hetzner facility at Germany and there could be service outage because of geographic/location specific issues
- (iii) Cost of Power, cost of leasing rack space may increase and is not in our control as we use Hetzner facility- we may not be in a position to negotiate the same.
- (iv) Bandwidth outage could disrupt our service temporarily.

13. Our Service may face a downtime along with loss of client data due to security or malware attack which may be completely unknown to us at this point of time.

In our Industry, due to entire dependence on the computers related hardware and software we may have vulnerabilities impacting operations, security, client data and others significantly. Security threats include any kind of malware attack or attack of unknown bugs and other issues. Such attacks are completely unknown to us at this point of time and this can also result in the loss of client data. Such kind of security attacks are faced by various similar cloud service providers globally.

14. Our results of operations may be materially adversely affected by our failure to anticipate and respond to changes in ed-tech and consumer preferences in a timely manner.

Our results of operations depend upon the continued demand by consumers for our solutions. We believe that our success depends in large part upon our ability to anticipate, gauge and respond in a timely manner to changing ed-tech trends and consumer demands and preferences and upon the appeal of our products / services. If we are unable to anticipate consumer preferences or industry changes, or if we are unable to modify our products / services on a timely basis, we may lose customers. A decline in demand for our products / services may lead to lower revenue which could have a material adverse effect on our brand, reputation, results of operations and financial condition.

15. Change in economic scenario of the advertiser's country may affect our revenue sharply.

All the revenue earned through contextual advertising depends on the amount paid by the advertiser to Google for display of ad on Website. Google then allocates ads to all the websites where the users have searched for solutions that advertisers deal in. Thus, our revenue majorly depends on the amount of Advertisement Campaign of advertiser with Google.

Any change in economic scenario in the country (from where the advertiser belongs) may sharply decrease the campaign amount with google, which in turn will affect our revenues. A decrease in the advertisement campaign amounts of ads shown at our website will decrease our revenue and vice-versa.

16. The fund requirement and deployment mentioned in the ‘Objects of the Issue’ have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution.

The fund requirement and deployment are based on internal management estimates and has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. Accordingly, within the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titled ‘Objects of the Issue’ beginning on page 83 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, the Management will have significant flexibility in applying the proceeds received by our Company from the issue. However, the Company shall comply with Section 27 of the Companies Act, 2013 before varying the ‘Object of the issue’. Our Board of Directors will monitor the utilization of the proceeds of this issue.

However, till date we have not placed any order for the purchase of such equipment and software. Following is the detail of Equipment and Software whose order shall be placed by the company in during the course of completion of our project:

Particulars	Amount (Rs. in Lakhs)	% of Total Issue proceeds	% of Net Issue proceeds	Status of order
Computer Peripherals & Software Cost	127.52	[●]	[●]	To be placed

18. An inability to manage our growth could disrupt our business and reduce our profitability.

Since incorporation our Company has experienced high growth as we have been providing high quality content to students and professional all over the world. We foresee our business to continue to scale as we gain wide visibility and diversify our product / service range. Particularly, continued expansion increases the challenges involved in:

Refinement of content already published, Developing and creation of New content, Improving our internal administrative, infrastructure, communications, internal control and other internal systems;

Any services provided by us do not comply with the quality specifications or standards prevalent in the business or market segment, may result in customer dissatisfaction, which may have an adverse effect on our sales and profitability.

20. Increased competition for skilled employees and salary increases for our employees may reduce our profit margin.

Due to sustained economic growth in India and increased competition for skilled employees in India over the last few years, wages of skilled employees are increasing at a fast rate. Accordingly, we may need to increase our levels of employee compensation rapidly to remain competitive in attracting the quality of employees that our business requires. Salary increases may reduce our profit margins and have a material and adverse effect on our results of operations.

21. We rely on our information technology systems and any failures in our systems could adversely impact our business.

As our business is entirely based on technology including our established website i.e. www.tutorialspoint.com and www.tutorix.com we depend extensively on our information technology systems to provide us connectivity across our business functions through our software, hardware and connectivity systems. We are in the process of upgrading our information technology infrastructure and any disruptions in the implementation or functioning thereafter could adversely affect our business operations. Any delay in implementation or any disruptions in the functioning could disrupt our ability to track, record and analyze the services that we provide and cause disruptions of operations, including, among others, an inability to render services.

22. Our Company has made delay in certain filings under various Statutory Acts applicable to it in the past years.

Our Company has made delay in certain compliances under certain provisions of the Companies Act that is delayed filing of forms such as AOC – 4, MGT – 7, INC – 22 and ADT – 1 during the FY 2015 – 16 and FY 2016 – 17. Although they have not been furnished with any notices by the RoC/any other statutory authority with respect to this non-compliance, we cannot guarantee that our Company will not be subject to any penalties for the said violations in future. Such non-compliances may have an adverse impact on our reputation, business and results of operations.

23. If we are unable to source business opportunities effectively, we may not achieve our financial objectives.

Our ability to achieve our financial objectives will depend on our ability to identify, evaluate and accomplish business opportunities. To grow our business, we will need to hire, train, supervise and manage new employees and to implement systems capable of effectively accommodating our growth. However, we cannot assure you that any such employees will contribute to the success of our business or that we will implement such systems effectively. Our failure to source business opportunities effectively could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. It also is possible that the strategies used by us in the future may be different from those presently in use. No assurance can be given that our analyses of market and other data or the strategies we use or plans in future to use will be successful under various market conditions.

- 24. *Property on which our registered office is located is not owned by us. In the event, we are unable to renew lease agreements for registered office, or if such agreements are terminated, we may suffer a disruption in our operations.

Further, our Company shall inform about material deviations in the utilization of Issue proceeds to the BSE Limited and shall also simultaneously make the material deviations/ adverse comments of the audit committee public.

- 26. *We may not be successful in implementing our business and advertisement strategies.

The success of our business depends substantially on our ability to implement our business and advertisement strategies effectively. Even though we have successfully executed above strategies in the past, there is no guarantee that we can implement the same on time and within the estimated budget going forward, or that we will be able to meet the expectations of our targeted clients. Changes in regulations applicable to us may also make it difficult to implement our business strategies. Failure to implement our business and advertisement strategies would have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

- 27. *Our success depends largely upon the services of our Promoter Directors and other Key Managerial Personnel and our ability to attract and retain them. Demand for Key Managerial Personnel in the industry is intense and our inability to attract and retain Key Managerial Personnel may affect the operations of our Company

Our Directors and key managerial personnel have built relations with clients and other persons who are connected with our business. Our success is substantially dependent on the expertise and services of our Directors and our Key Managerial Personnel. They provide expertise which enables us to make well informed decisions in relation to our business and our future prospects. Our future performance will depend upon the continued services of these persons. We cannot assure you that we will be able to retain any or all, or that our succession planning will help to replace, the key members of our management. The loss of the services of such key members of our management team and the failure of any succession plans to replace such key members could have an adverse effect on our business and the results of our operations.

28. In addition to normal remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses, some of our Directors and key managerial personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of their shareholding and dividend entitlement in our Company.

Our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of remuneration paid to them for services rendered and reimbursement of expenses payable to them. In addition, some of our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel may also be interested to the extent of their shareholding and dividend entitlement in our Company. For further information, see “Capital Structure” and “Our Management” on pages 64 and 170, respectively, of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

29. We have entered into certain related party transactions and may continue to do so.

We have entered into related party transactions with our Promoters and Directors. While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on the arm’s length basis, however it is difficult to ascertain whether more favorable terms would have been achieved had such transactions been entered with unrelated parties. Furthermore, it is likely that we will enter into related party transactions in the future. For details of these transactions, please refer to section titled “Related Party Transactions” at page 198 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

30. Our company has no insurance policies to cover all risks, specifically risks like product defect/liability risk, loss of profits and terrorism. In the event of the occurrence of such events, our company may be subject to possible risk of loss.

Our Company has not obtained insurance coverage in respect of all risks. In absence of any coverage of insurance our company faces the risks of loss of profit due to product defect/liability risk, loss of profits, losses due to terrorism, etc. If we suffer a significant uninsured loss, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

31. The Group Personal Insurance Policy taken by company has expired on June 22nd, 2019 and the same has not been renewed as on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. In case of occurrence of any such events as were covered under the policy, the company may be subjected to possible risk of loss.

The company has taken a Group Insurance Policy on, the details of which are as under:

Type of Policy	Policy No.	Premium Amount (In Rs. Lakhs)	Policy Amount (In Rs. Lakhs)	Expiry
Group Personal Insurance	OG-19-1801-8403-00000035	9.88	144	22 June 2019*

The above-mentioned policy has expired and has not been renewed as on the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. In case of occurrence of any such event as covered by the above-mentioned policy, the company may be subjected to a possible risk of loss.

32. Our ability to pay dividends will depend upon future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and other factors

The amount of our future dividend payments, if any, will depend upon various factors such as our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and other factors. There can be no assurance that we shall have distributable funds or that we will declare dividends in the future. Additionally, the terms of any financing which we may seek in future, may contain restrictive covenants which may also affect some of the rights of our shareholders, including the payment of the dividend.

33. Our future funds requirements, in the form of fresh issue of capital or securities and/or loans taken by us, may be prejudicial to the interest of the shareholders depending upon the terms on which they are eventually raised.

We may require additional capital from time to time depending on our business needs. Any fresh issue of shares or convertible securities would dilute the shareholding of the existing shareholders and such issuance may be done on terms and conditions, which may not be favorable to the then existing shareholders. If such funds are raised in the form of loans or debt, then it may substantially increase our interest burden and decrease our cash flows, thus prejudicially affecting our profitability and ability to pay dividends to our shareholders.

34. Our Promoters will continue jointly to retain majority control over our Company after the Issue, which will allow them to determine the outcome of matters submitted to shareholders for approval.

After completion of the issue, our Promoters will collectively own [●] % of the Equity Shares. As a result, our Promoters will be able to exercise a significant degree of influence over us and will be able to control the outcome of any proposal that can be approved by a majority shareholder vote, including, the election of members to our Board, in accordance with the Companies Act and our Articles of Association. Such a concentration of ownership may also have the effect of delaying, preventing or deterring a change in control of our Company.

In addition, our Promoters will continue to have the ability to cause us to take actions that are not in, or may conflict with, our interests or the interests of some or all of our creditors or minority shareholders, and we cannot assure you that such actions will not have an adverse effect on our future financial performance or the price of our Equity Shares.

35. We could be harmed by employee misconduct or errors that are difficult to detect and any such incidences could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

Employee misconduct or errors could expose us to business risks or losses, including regulatory sanctions and serious harm to our reputation. There can be no assurance that we will be able to detect or deter such misconduct. Moreover, the precautions we take to prevent and detect such activity may not be effective in all cases. Our employees and agents may also commit errors that could subject us to claims and proceedings for alleged negligence, as well as regulatory actions on account of which our business, financial condition, results of operations and goodwill could be adversely affected.

36. We may not be able to maintain similar level of pricing for Tutorix with our customers which may significantly impact our financials and future growth ability

We may not be able to keep the price for Tutorix at similar level impacting our customer acquisition, financials and future growth materially. It is important in our business to be very cost competitive to attract customer and our inability to cope with increasing competition from global as well as local players may impact our ability to pass similar level of pricing. Typically, hardware cost for the same configuration goes down every year, our inability to pass equivalent fall in price as the fall in hardware cost can again impact our competitiveness. Also, pricing may be an important business strategy and we may reduce more than the fall in input cost impacting our business profitability.

37. Usage of open source software for most of our products can impact us with non-compliance of licensing terms

Generally, our company uses the open source software for most of our products. The usage of open source software can impact the company with non-compliance of various licensing terms.

Issue Specific Risks

- 38. There are restrictions on daily / weekly / monthly movements in the price of the Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell, or the price at which it can sell, Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

Once listed, we would be subject to circuit breakers imposed by all stock exchanges in India, which does not allow transactions beyond specified increases or decreases in the price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on circuit breakers is set by the stock exchanges based on the historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. The stock exchanges do not inform us of the percentage limit of the circuit breaker in effect from time to time and may change it without our knowledge. This circuit breaker limits the upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. As a result of this circuit breaker, no assurance may be given regarding your ability to sell your Equity Shares or the price at which you may be able to sell your Equity Shares at any particular time.

- 39. After this Issue, the price of the Equity Shares may be highly volatile, or an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop.

The price of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges may fluctuate as a result of the factors, including:

- Volatility in the Indian and global capital market;
- Company's results of operations and financial performance;
- Performance of Company's competitors;
- Adverse media reports on Company or pertaining to the cloud computing Industry;
- Changes in our estimates of performance or recommendations by financial analysts;
- Significant developments in India's economic and fiscal policies; and
- Significant developments in India's environmental regulations.

Current valuations may not be sustainable in the future and may also not be reflective of future valuations for our industry and our Company. There has been no public market for the Equity Shares and the prices of the Equity Shares may fluctuate after this Issue. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Equity Shares will develop or be sustained after this Issue or that the price at which the Equity Shares are initially traded will correspond to the price at which the Equity Shares will trade in the market subsequent to this Issue.

- 40. The Issue price of our Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue and the market price of our Equity Shares may decline below the issue price and you may not be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

The Issue Price of our Equity Shares has been determined by Book Building Method. This price is based on numerous factors (For further information, please refer chapter titled "Basis for Issue Price" beginning on page 92 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue. The market price of our Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Issue and may decline below the Issue Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price. Among the factors that could affect our share price include without limitation. The following:

- Half yearly variations in the rate of growth of our financial indicators, such as earnings per share, net income and revenues;
- Changes in revenue or earnings estimates or publication of research reports by analysts;
- Speculation in the press or investment community;
- General market conditions; and
- Domestic and international economic, legal and regulatory factors unrelated to our performance.

- 41. You will not be able to sell immediately on Stock Exchange any of the Equity Shares you purchase in the issue until the Issue receives appropriate trading permissions.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchange. Pursuant to Indian regulations, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading may commence. We cannot assure you that the Equity Shares will be credited to investor's demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval would restrict your ability to dispose of the Equity Shares. In accordance with Section 40 of the Companies Act, 2013, in the event that the permission of listing the Equity Shares is denied by the stock exchanges, we are required to refund all monies collected to investors.

- 42. Sale of Equity Shares by our Promoter or other significant shareholder(s) may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any instance of disinvestments of equity shares by our Promoter or by other significant shareholder(s) may significantly affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Further, our market price may also be adversely affected even if there is a perception or belief that such sales of Equity Shares might occur.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

Industry Related Risks

- 43. Changes in government regulations or their implementation could disrupt our operations and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our business and industry are regulated by different laws, rules and regulations framed by the Central and State Government. These regulations can be amended / changed on a short notice at the discretion of the Government. If we fail to comply with all applicable regulations or if the regulations governing our business or their implementation change adversely, we may incur increased costs or be subject to penalties, which could disrupt our operations and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Other Risks

- 44. The Companies Act, 2013 has effected significant changes to the existing Indian company law framework, which may subject us to higher compliance requirements and increase our compliance costs.

A majority of the provisions and rules under the Companies Act, 2013 have recently been notified and have come into effect from the date of their respective notification, resulting in the corresponding provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 ceasing to have effect. The Companies Act, 2013 has brought into effect significant changes to the Indian company law framework, such as in the provisions related to issue of capital, disclosures in Draft Red Herring Prospectus, corporate governance norms, audit matters, related party transactions, introduction of a provision allowing the initiation of class action suits in India against companies by shareholders or depositors, a restriction on investment by an Indian company through more than two layers of subsidiary investment companies (subject to certain permitted exceptions), prohibitions on loans to directors and insider trading and restrictions on directors and key managerial personnel from engaging in forward dealing. To ensure compliance with the requirements of the Companies Act, 2013, we may need to allocate additional resources, which may increase our regulatory compliance costs and divert management attention.

The Companies Act, 2013 introduced certain additional requirements which do not have corresponding equivalents under the Companies Act, 1956. Accordingly, we may face challenges in interpreting and complying with such provisions due to limited jurisprudence on them. In the event, our interpretation of such provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 differs from, or contradicts with, any judicial pronouncements or clarifications issued by the Government in the future, we may face regulatory actions or we may be required to undertake remedial steps. We may face difficulties in complying with any such overlapping requirements. Further, we cannot currently determine the impact of provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 which are yet to come in force. Any increase in our compliance requirements or in our compliance costs may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

45. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares within 12 months in an Indian company are classified as short-term capital gains and generally taxable. Any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a stock exchange that are held for more than 12 months is considered as long-term capital gains and currently, such gains are not be subject to capital gains tax in India if Securities Transaction tax (“STT”) has been paid on the transaction. STT is levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. The Finance Act, 2018, has withdrawn the exemption on long-term capital gains tax from 1 April 2018 and to impose 10% tax on such long-term capital gains in excess of Rs. 1,00,000. Any long-term gain realized on the sale of equity shares, which are sold other than on a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, is also subject to tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares are exempt from taxation in India where an exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable to pay tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain on the sale of equity shares.

46. Significant differences exist between Indian GAAP and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to the financial statements prepared and presented in accordance with SEBI ICDR Regulations contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus

As stated in the reports of the Auditor included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus under chapter “Financial Statements as restated” beginning on page 200, the financial statements included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus are based on financial information that is based on the audited financial statements that are prepared and presented in conformity with Indian GAAP and restated in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, and no attempt has been made to reconcile any of the information given in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus to any other principles or to base it on any other standards. Indian GAAP differs from accounting principles and auditing standards with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS. Significant differences exist between Indian GAAP and U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with Indian GAAP contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Accordingly, the degree to which the financial information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is dependent on familiarity with Indian GAAP, the Companies Act and the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian GAAP on the financial disclosures presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should accordingly be limited.

47. Taxes and other levies imposed by the Government of India or other State Governments, as well as other financial policies and regulations, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Taxes and other levies imposed by the Central or State Governments in India that affect our industry include:

- Custom duties on imports of computers, servers and other accessories.
- Goods and Service Tax (GST) on certain raw materials and components; and
- Other new or special taxes and surcharges introduced on a permanent or temporary basis from time to time.

These taxes and levies affect the cost and prices of our products and therefore demand for our product. An increase in any of these taxes or levies, or the imposition of new taxes or levies in the future, may have a material adverse effect on our business, profitability and financial condition.

48. Political instability or a change in economic liberalization and deregulation policies could seriously harm business and economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular.

The Government of India has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise influence over many aspects of the economy. Our business and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares may be affected by interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. The rate of economic liberalization could change, and specific laws and policies affecting the information technology sector, foreign investment and other matters affecting investment in our securities could change as well. Any significant change in such liberalization and de-regulation policies could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India, generally, and our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations, in particular.

49. We cannot guarantee the accuracy or completeness of facts and other statistics with respect to India, the Indian economy and industry in which our company operates contained in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

While facts and other statistics in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus relating to India, the Indian economy and the industry in which our company operates has been based on various government publications and reports from government agencies that we believe are reliable, we cannot guarantee the quality or reliability of such materials. While we have taken reasonable care in the reproduction of such information, industry facts and other statistics have not been prepared or independently verified by us or any of our respective affiliates or advisors and, therefore we make no representation as to their accuracy or completeness. These facts and other statistics include the facts and statistics included in the chapter titled 'Our Industry' beginning on page 98 of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Due to possibly flawed or ineffective data collection methods or discrepancies between published information and market practice and other problems, the statistics herein may be inaccurate or may not be comparable to statistics produced elsewhere and should not be unduly relied upon. Further, there is no assurance that they are stated or compiled on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy, as the case may be, elsewhere.

50. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws, may adversely affect our business and financial performance.

Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by unfavorable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations applicable to us and our business. Please refer to "Key Industry Regulations and Policies" on page no. 156 for details of the laws currently applicable to us. There can be no assurance that the Government of India may not implement new regulations and policies which will require us to obtain approvals and licenses from the Government of India and other regulatory bodies or impose onerous requirements and conditions on our operations. Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the applicability, interpretation and implementation of any amendment to, or change to governing laws, regulation or policy in the jurisdictions in which we operate may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may have to incur expenditures to comply with the requirements of any new regulations, which may also materially harm our results of operations. Any unfavorable changes to the laws and regulations applicable to us could also subject us to additional liabilities. GST has been implemented with effect from July 1, 2017 and has replaced the indirect taxes on goods and services such as central excise duty, service tax, central sales tax, state VAT and surcharge.

Currently being collected by the central and state governments. The GST is expected to increase tax incidence and administrative compliance. Given the limited availability of information in the public domain concerning the GST, we are unable to provide any assurance as to the tax regime following implementation of the GST. The implementation of this new structure may be affected by any disagreement between certain state Governments, which could create uncertainty. Any future amendments may affect our overall tax efficiency and may result in significant additional taxes becoming payable.

Further, the general anti avoidance rules (“GAAR”) provisions have been made effective from assessment year 2018 – 19 onwards, i.e.; financial Year 2017 – 18 onwards and the same may get triggered once transactions are undertaken to avoid tax. The consequences of the GAAR provisions being applied to an arrangement could result in denial of tax benefit amongst other consequences. In the absence of any precedents on the subject, the application of these provisions is uncertain.

The application of various Indian tax laws, rules and regulations to our business, currently or in the future, is subject to interpretation by the applicable taxation authorities. If such tax laws, rules and regulations are amended, new adverse laws, rules or regulations are adopted or current laws are interpreted adversely to our interests, the results could increase our tax payments (prospectively or retrospectively) and/or subject us to penalties. Further, changes in capital gains tax or tax on capital market transactions or sale of shares could affect investor returns. As a result, any such changes or interpretations could have an adverse effect on our business and financial performance.

51. Financial instability in Indian financial markets could adversely affect Our Company’s results of operations and financial condition.

In this globalized world, the Indian economy and financial markets are significantly influenced by worldwide economic, financial and market conditions. Any financial turmoil, say in the United States of America, Europe, China or other emerging economies, may have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Although economic conditions differ in each country, investors’ reactions to any significant developments in one country can have adverse effects on the financial and market conditions in other countries. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems, particularly in other emerging markets, may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets. Indian financial markets have also experienced the contagion effect of the global financial turmoil. Any prolonged financial crisis may have an adverse impact on the Indian economy, thereby resulting in a material and adverse effect on our Company's business, operations, financial condition, profitability and price of its Shares. Stock exchanges in India have in the past experienced substantial fluctuations in the prices of listed securities.

52. Conditions in the Indian securities market may affect the price or liquidity of our Equity Shares.

The Indian securities markets are smaller than securities markets in more developed economies and the regulation and monitoring of Indian securities markets and the activities of investors, brokers and other participants differ, in some cases significantly, from those in the more developed economies. Indian stock exchanges have in the past experienced substantial fluctuations in the prices of listed securities. Further, the Indian stock exchanges have experienced volatility in the recent times. The Indian stock exchanges have also experienced problems that have affected the market price and liquidity of the securities of Indian companies, such as temporary exchange closures, broker defaults, settlement delays and strikes by brokers. In addition, the governing bodies of the Indian stock exchanges have from time to time restricted securities from trading and limited price movements. A closure of, or trading stoppage on the SME Platform of BSE Limited could adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

53. Global economic, political and social conditions may harm our ability to do business, increase our costs and negatively affect our stock price.

Global economic and political factors that are beyond our control, influence forecasts and directly affect performance. These factors include interest rates, rates of economic growth, fiscal and monetary policies of governments, inflation, deflation, foreign exchange fluctuations, consumer credit availability, fluctuations in commodities markets, consumer debt levels, unemployment trends and other matters that influence consumer confidence, spending and tourism. Increasing volatility in financial markets may cause these factors to change with a greater degree of frequency and magnitude, which may negatively affect our stock prices.

54. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limits our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection / tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

55. The extent and reliability of Indian infrastructure could adversely affect our Company's results of operations and financial condition.

India's physical infrastructure is in developing phase compared to that of many developed nations. Any congestion or disruption in its port, rail and road networks, electricity grid, communication systems or any other public facility could disrupt our Company's normal business activity. Any deterioration of India's physical infrastructure would harm the national economy; disrupt the transportation of goods and supplies, and costs to doing business in India. These problems could interrupt our Company's business operations, which could have an adverse effect on its results of operations and financial condition.

56. Any downgrading of India's sovereign rating by an independent agency may harm our ability to raise financing.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing may be available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and future financial performance, our ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the trading price of our Equity Shares.

57. Natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy and cause Our Company's business to suffer.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunami, floods etc. In recent years, the extent and severity of these natural disasters determine their impact on the Indian economy. Prolonged spells of abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations as well as the price of the Equity Shares.

58. Terrorist attacks, civil unrests and other acts of violence or war involving India or other countries could adversely affect the financial markets, our business, financial condition and the price of our Equity Shares.

Any major hostilities involving India or other acts of violence, including civil unrest or similar events that are beyond our control, could have a material adverse effect on India's economy and our business. Incidents such as the terrorist attacks, other incidents such as those in US, Indonesia, Madrid and London, and other acts of violence may adversely affect the Indian stock markets where our Equity Shares will trade as well the global equity markets generally. Such acts could negatively impact business sentiment as well as trade between countries, which could adversely affect our Company's business and profitability. Additionally, such events could have a material adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies, including the Equity Shares.

Illustration of Book Building and Price Discovery Process (Investors should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue) Bidders can bid at any price within the price band. For instance, assume a price band of Rs. 20.00/- to Rs. 24.00/- per equity share, issue size of 3,000 equity shares and receipt of five bids from bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. A graphical representation of the consolidated demand and price would be made available at the bidding centres during the bidding period. The illustrative book below shows the demand for the equity shares of the issuer company at various prices and is collated from bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Price (Rs.)	Cumulative Bid Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the issuer is able to issue the desired number of shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., Rs. 22/- in the above example. The issuer, in consultation with the Book Running Lead Manager will finalize the issue price at or below such cut – off price, i.e., at or below Rs. 22/-. All bids at or above this issue price and cut – off bids are valid bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

Steps to be taken by the Bidders for Bidding:

- Check eligibility for making a Bid (see section titled “Issue Procedure” on page 273 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus);
- Ensure that you have a demat account and the demat account details are correctly mentioned in the Bid cum Application Form;

The exemption for Central or State Governments and officials appointed by the courts and for investors residing in Sikkim is subject to the Depository Participant’s verification of the veracity of such claims of the investors by collecting sufficient documentary evidence in support of their claims.

SECTION V - ABOUT THE COMPANY

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The information in this section includes extracts from publicly available information, data and statistics and has been derived from various government publications and industry sources. Neither we nor any other person connected with the Issue have verified this information. The data may have been re – classified by us for the purposes of presentation. Industry sources and publications generally state that the information contained therein has been obtained from sources generally believed to be reliable, but that their accuracy, completeness and underlying assumptions are not guaranteed and their reliability cannot be assured and, accordingly, investment decisions should not be based on such information. You should read the entire Draft Red Herring Prospectus, including the information contained in the sections titled “Risk Factors” and “Financial Statements as restated” and related notes beginning on page 28 and 200 respectively of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus before deciding to invest in our Equity Shares.

E – LEARNING – INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

E – learning refers to the use of electronic media and information and communication technologies in education. It replicates and supplements the process of classroom teaching in electronic form. In a classroom, knowledge is delivered by a teacher who manages (portions and sequence of content to be taught and assessments related to it) and delivers a prescribed curriculum to a set of students. Similarly, e – learning involves efficiently managing and distributing relevant content to the consumers / customers.

E-learning industry can be said to broadly comprise four components: content, management system, delivery/distribution system and the consumers / customers. An efficient collaboration of all the three – content, management system, delivery / distribution system – leads to a satisfying and successful e – learning experience for a consumer.

For start-ups in e – learning space to flourish, for the adoption of e-learning in schools and by massive consumer base, for capital to be poured in this space and for the whole industry to mature, one must understand the hassles and problems of the industry. In this highly interwoven e-learning market, there is a necessity to understand the challenges and to collaborate across verticals. Start-ups working in e-learning content industry, however good they are, cannot provide value in the absence of highly efficient management and distribution systems. On the other hand, success of a management or distribution system is based on the premises of quality content. There are some key factors affecting, and sometimes challenging, different components of e-learning industry which every start-up must keep in consideration. Consumer behaviour is affected by the cost of learning, flexibility offered while learning and also on the level of the qualification of customers. As e-learning serves a horizontal market, focus on a targeted set of consumers when it comes to content generation or collation is very important. Regulatory norms and curriculum (when catering to educational institutes), corporate and consumer requirements have to be met through e-learning content.

Management systems have to be efficient, should support simple and seamless integration of content from different sources and should be scalable to support the needs of growing demand. Distribution and delivery systems can take the form of immersive and game-based learning, MOOCs, learning portals and hardware (tablet or phablet) based delivery. Inclusion of adaptive learning models is also on rise these days with start-ups trying to bring in this model to make e-learning very personalized. Collaboration is definitely needed in any industry but its greater need for the e-learning industry stems from the very nature of the learning process. E-learning is a very comprehensive process of developing solutions for efficient knowledge delivery. Mastering each and every part of this process is a challenging problem. Focusing on one, be it e-learning content or e-learning technology, looks more feasible to start-up with.

Case and point, there are presently more than 700 LMS suppliers (or even 1,000, relying upon who you're asking) in the market. Actually, in 2015 the market was worth some place around $165 billion. At a 5% expansion consistently, that puts us on track for a nearly $182 billion market in 2017 and hitting practically $240 billion by 2023. E-Learning Market size was estimated at over USD 150 billion in 2016 and is predicted to grow at over 5% CAGR from 2017 to 2024.

Global E-Learning Market Size, By Application, 2016 and 2024 (USD Billion)

Increasing adoption of training solutions in the corporate landscape, irrespective of their industry vertical, is a major factor promoting the e-learning market growth. A companies’ employee base can avail training experience that are customized to suit their learning speed and ability and improve information retention through an interactive and rich media learning experience. Companies such as City Cab, for instance, have launched web-based training programs to provide language training to cab drivers for the improvement of communication with commuters. Owing to their benefits, government of various economies, such as in India and Brazil, have undertaken initiatives and programs to increase the access of the local population to such technologies. The Indian Department of Electronics and Information Technology (DeitY) is supporting e-learning centred R&D spending in institutions such as IIT and C-DAC across the country. E-training and online education apps require constant internet connection to function effectively. This can hinder applications in regions that have limited or slow access to the internet, hindering the growth of the e-learning market. Development of the technology requires highly skilled personnel and a large amount of time. The transition from conventional learning and training methods to online methods can further reduce the adoption of these technologies. Despite their advantages, tutors and students that have little or no prior knowledge of these solutions are more reluctant to adopt these technologies.

E-Learning Market, By Application

The corporate e-learning market can be segregated by size to include SMBs and large institutions. This software allows the organization to train their employee base in a variety of areas, ranging from sensitivity to technical skill training. SMBs having limited financial resources are anticipated to increasingly adopt the technology as they allow the training of many employees at affordable rates. Owing to their increasing rates of globalization and rapid industrialization, MNCs having a large and dispersed employee base are resorting to diversity and sensitivity training and technical and management training for the various tiers in the company. In May 2016, Infosys Ltd. announced that it had entered an agreement with Udacity Inc., Coursera Inc., and EdX Inc, to training their personnel on AI powered technologies. Availability of online tools by subscription basis can aid in the design and development of the software applications, allowing SMBs having limited resources to access premium content at very low rates. Vendors operating globally are increasingly providing software and apps that can work effectively on a range of mobile platforms such as Android and iOS. The rising trend of gamification of the learning process allows the user to be highly engaged in the learning process and allows quicker recollection of earlier learned concepts.

E-Learning Market, By Technology

Online solutions continuously collect the user information and give a customized feedback of the user's performance. Furthermore, the students can immediately connect to a tutor or service provider in case of any issues. However, it requires constant connection with the internet to function effectively. Online solutions are increasingly gaining a foothold in the global e-learning marketplace. Mobile e-learning market segment is anticipated to witness growth owing to the increase flexibility and the ability to access from multiple devices. For employees that have limited time to train in a particular field, mobile learning allows the user to access their account from multiple devices and at any location. Furthermore, phone-based reminders and organizers are increasingly integrated into e-learning platforms to improve the learning process.

E-Learning Market, By Provider

The content providers in the e-learning market is projected to grow owing to the rising demand for the online learning content as it is readily available for usage on a variety of platforms. Furthermore, content packages are set as per the requirements of the curriculum and can be conformed to suit the needs of the end-users. These are accessed by a large number of students via subscription basis. Owing to their high scalability and customization to suit the varying demands of the end-users, these are widely adopted by educational institutions and corporate bodies. The increased penetration of mobile devices and the internet across the world is transforming the e-learning market. Technological advancements such as the introduction of online tools, cloud technology, and mobile learning are further anticipated to propel growth.

E-Learning Market, By Region

The U.S. e-learning market is expected to lead the global industry, owing to the rising penetration of corporate training programs in the region. The high application of advanced technologies, video content, and gamification is anticipated to drive the demand. The high penetration of mobile technology is anticipated to drive the Asia Pacific e-learning market. The movement of the workforce to foreign locations leading to high demand of learning courses. Furthermore, developing economies in the region, such as India, have taken initiatives to improve the literacy rates of the general population, primarily in rural and semi-rural locations. For instance, the HRD Ministry of Government of India has launched NPTEL, an eLearning initiative for courses in engineering, science, and humanities streams.

Competitive Market Share

The vendors in the e-learning market include McGrawHill, Oracle, Desire2Learn, Apollo Education Group, Adobe systems, Net Dimensions, Cisco Systems, Pearson, Coursera, HealthStream, SAP, Udacity Inc., Coursera Inc., Skillsoft, Cornerstone, and EdX Inc. The ecosystem is characterized by intense competition among the existing players. The companies adopt strategies such as partnerships and mergers and acquisitions to sustain growth in the marketplace. For instance, in January 2017, Udacity Inc. acquired Cloud Labs for the improvement of the collaborative coding environment. E-Learning enables students separated over a large geographical area and that have limited learning opportunities to have access to tutoring and education on a wide range of subjects including healthcare, engineering, and others. The major players provide a vast array of solutions that can be customized according to the requirements of the user. This software can collect real-time user data and use it to provide a better and immersive environment to the user. Furthermore, these allow the student base to have flexibility in their learning schedule as they do not bind the student to certain times and locations for access of these solutions.

GLOBAL ECONOMIC ENVIRONMENT

GLOBAL ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Ten years after the Global Financial Crisis, the recovery is underway and output levels have surpassed pre-crisis levels in most advanced economies. But how are labour markets performing? At a high level, they have (almost) never been better. Figure 1 shows that the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (“OECD”) harmonized unemployment rate is at its lowest ever recorded rate of 5.4%. But despite tightening labour markets, wages have not yet picked up as economic theory would predict. This has been a key feature in large economies like the US and the UK—we looked at the latter in more detail in our UK Economic Outlook report last July. In this edition, we look closely at the relationship between unemployment and wage growth—traditionally described as the ‘Phillips Curve’ — for the Eurozone. Looking at the high-level statistics, the Eurozone unemployment rate currently stands at the 8.5% mark— but this doesn’t reveal the wide variation across member states from around 3.5% in Germany to over 20% in Greece. Our analysis highlights some of the potential reasons for the decoupling of wage inflation from unemployment rates, including:

- Structural factors such as the digitalization of work and erosion of the bargaining power of workers (in part due to reduced trade union membership);
- The creation of a single monetary authority in the Eurozone since 1999, which has lowered inflation expectations in some markets; and
- The accession of the lower income Eastern European economies which effectively increased the supply of labour available to Eurozone (and European Union) economies.

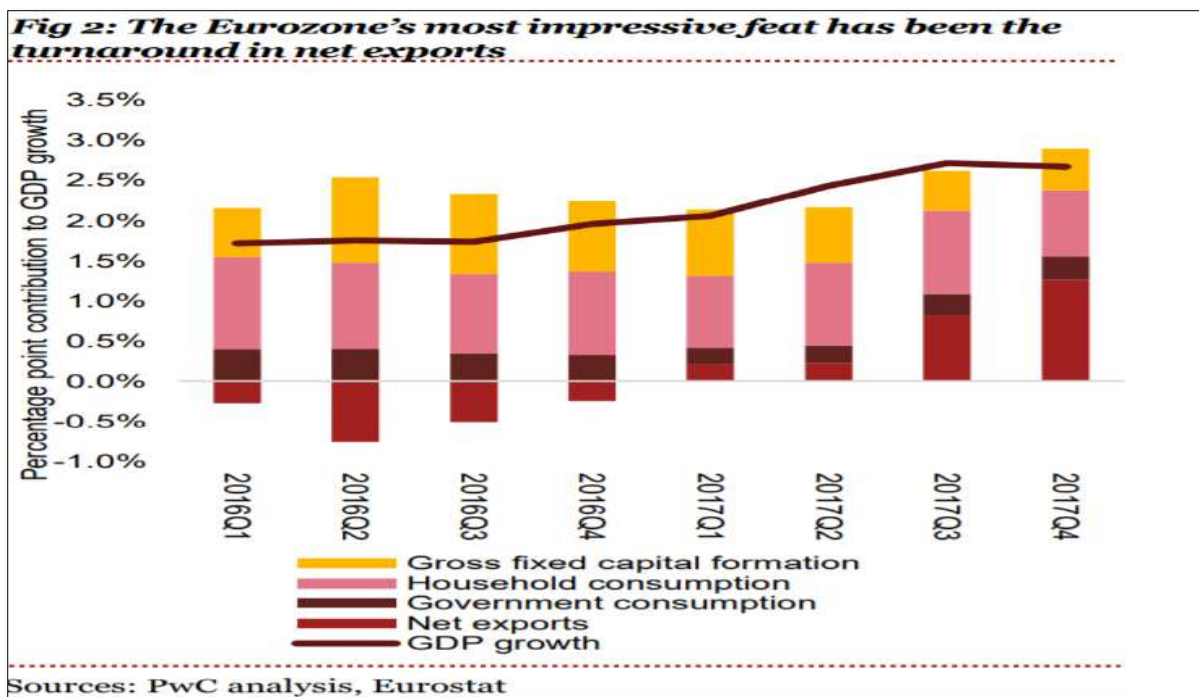

On a broader note, we continue to monitor economic developments in the Eurozone, which continues to grow at robust rates— the latest flash estimate shows the bloc grew by 0.4% quarter-on quarter in the first three months of the year. However, our analysis of the latest set of detailed national accounts data shows that the Eurozone is increasingly reliant on external demand as a key source of GDP growth. This could make the bloc more susceptible to uncertainties in the international trade arena and could explain some of the softening of the survey data which came out last month. By comparison, the US economy grew by 0.6% quarter-on-quarter for the first three months of the year, whereas the UK just by 0.1% quarter-on quarter. We will be monitoring these for any revisions in the coming weeks.

Economic update: Eurozone economic performance remains reliant on external demand

Ten years on from the global financial crisis of 2008, the Eurozone is exhibiting signs of broad-based growth. Last year, for example, the bloc grew at an estimated rate of 2.3% —the fastest rate of growth recorded since the financial crisis. The latest breakdown of the national accounts shows a more detailed picture of the sources of growth. Our analysis of the data in Figure 2 shows that:

- Household consumption held up as a key source of economic growth throughout the period, but there are signs that households remain cautious in their spending habits. This was reflected in the gradual uptick in the savings ratio from about 11.9% in the last quarter of 2016 to about 12.2% in the fourth quarter of 2017—despite about a million jobs being created in the Eurozone since the first quarter of 2016.
- The contribution of gross fixed capital formation (or investments) was the biggest driver of economic growth in 2016.
- Other sources of growth like government consumption held steady as austerity has eased and government budgets are now growing in line with economic performance with net exports, the bloc’s strong and weak point. However, the most impressive turnaround recorded is that of net exports, which swung from a negative contribution of almost one percentage point in the second quarter of 2016 to a positive contribution of 1.3 percentage points in the fourth quarter of 2017 (see Figure 2). Geographically, most of this was driven by the peripheral economies (particularly in the tourism sector where most experienced a recorded breaking year). Looking to the future, net exports highlight both the Eurozone’s key strength and vulnerability. On the one hand, strong growth in the Eurozone’s key exports markets is expected to continue. But at the same time, reliance on external demand as a key source of economic growth means the Eurozone is more susceptible to uncertainty and potential disruption in the global trading system.

Do global trade rules favour larger businesses?

Global institutions have supported merchandise trade growth. Since the foundation of the World Trade Organization (WTO) in 1995, global merchandise trade has increased by over 200%, facilitated by a reduction in average tariffs. More importantly, this has been accompanied by the establishment of a rules-based framework making trade practices stable and predictable. But how has trade performance differed between larger and smaller businesses? The data suggest that larger businesses are more likely to export. Our analysis of data (see Figure 3) for a selection of OECD and other European countries shows that larger businesses do indeed tend to be more active in the export market compared to small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs). This makes sense as large multi-national businesses—particularly those in the manufacturing sector—tend to have widely spread production processes with components crossing various international borders as part of the growing prevalence of global value chains (“GVC”). There are also other reasons why larger businesses are naturally more inclined to export, which include: Easier access to international capital markets, which is important for funding working capital and capital expenditure, making them more cost-efficient and competitive in international markets; and Economies of scale (possibly because of a patented product or production technique) which allow them to spread their fixed costs over a large volume of output. Smaller businesses tend to be more focused on services which are less tradeable but this does not give the complete picture. According to a policy brief by the OECD*, smaller businesses tend to be more active in the services sector which, in turn, tend to be less tradeable. This, however, is not an ironclad rule. For example, in Cyprus and in Malta, most small businesses are focused in the tourism, travel and accommodation sectors, which are much more export oriented. Similarly, the Milestone in Germany and Austria or the highly skilled engineering businesses in the North of Italy are highly export oriented businesses despite their relatively small size. But technological changes are supporting growth in cross-border services activity despite the absence of a globally agreed set of standards for trade in services, rapid and sustained technological advancements have boosted services trade. The International Monetary Fund (“IMF”), for example, estimates that cross-border trade in services has grown steadily in the past forty years and now accounts for about one fifth of global exports. The key sector that has led growth in cross border activity here is the “modern services” sector, which covers activities that can be delivered at a distance including telecommunications, financial intermediation and professional services. The export outlook for these sectors continues to remain bright. In conclusion, larger corporations are expected to be more active in the international trade space because of factors inherent in their size. SMEs, which tend to be more active in the services sectors, tend to trade less internationally (with the exception of some industries mentioned above), partly because international services standards do not yet exist here to the same degree as in manufacturing. However, technological change is making the selling of cross-border services easier over time, which should help more SMEs to export in these sectors. *Small and Medium-Sized enterprises: Local strength, Global Reach, OECD (2000).

Expansion Continues at a Less Even Pace

As the global cyclical upswing approaches its two-year mark, the pace of expansion in some economies appears to have peaked and growth has become less synchronized across countries. Among advanced economies, growth divergences between the United States on one side, and Europe and Japan on the other, are widening. Growth is also becoming more uneven among emerging market and developing economies, reflecting the combined influences of rising oil prices, higher yields in the United States, sentiment shifts following escalating trade tensions, and domestic political and policy uncertainty. While financial conditions remain generally benign, these factors have resulted in capital inflow reductions, higher financing costs, and exchange rate pressures, more acute in countries with weaker fundamentals or higher political risks. High-frequency data present a mixed picture of near-term global activity. Retail sales volumes appear to have picked up in the second quarter, and survey data of purchasing managers for the service sector remain generally strong. Industrial production, however, appears to have softened, and survey data of purchasing managers in manufacturing indicate a weakening of new export orders.

Commodity prices and inflation: Largely reflecting supply shortfalls, global oil prices increased 16 percent between February 2018 (the reference period for the April 2018 WEO) and early June 2018 (the reference period for the July 2018 WEO Update). In June, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and non-OPEC oil producers agreed to raise oil production by about 1 million barrels per day from current levels, correcting the recent undershooting of the November 2016 group target. Market expectations suggest that declining capacity in Venezuela and US sanctions on Iran may pose difficulties for the group to deliver the agreed upon production increase consistently. Futures markets, however, indicate prices are likely to decline over the next 4–5 years (in part due to increased US shale production)—as of end-June, medium-term futures prices are about $59 per barrel (20 percent below current levels). The increase in fuel prices has lifted headline inflation in advanced and emerging market economies. Core inflation has strengthened in the United States as the labor market has tightened further, and inched up in the euro area. Core inflation in emerging markets has also increased, reflecting pass-through effects from currency depreciation in some cases and second-round effects of higher fuel prices in others. Prices of agricultural commodities have increased marginally, reflecting diminishing excess supply.

Global Growth Forecast

Global growth for 2018 and 2019 is projected at 3.9 percent, as forecast in the April 2018 WEO. While headline numbers suggest a broadly unchanged global outlook relative to the April WEO, underlying revisions point to differing prospects across economies. The baseline forecast assumes gradually tightening but still favorable financial conditions, with localized pressures based on differences in fundamentals. Monetary policy normalization in advanced economies is assumed to proceed in a well-communicated, steady manner. Domestic demand growth (notably investment, which has been an important part of the global recovery) is expected to continue at a strong pace, even as overall output growth slows in some cases where it has been above trend for several quarters. In the baseline forecast, the direct contractionary effects of recently announced and anticipated trade measures are expected to be small, as these measures affect only a very small share of global trade so far. The baseline forecast also assumes limited spillovers to market sentiment, even if escalating trade tensions are an important downside risk.

Advanced economy growth is expected to remain above trend at 2.4 percent in 2018 - similar to 2017 - before easing to 2.2 percent in 2019. The forecast for 2018 is lower by 0.1 percentage point compared to the April WEO, largely reflecting greater-than-expected growth moderations in the euro area and Japan after several quarters of above-potential growth.

- Many emerging market and developing economies need to enhance resilience through an appropriate mix of fiscal, monetary, exchange rate, and prudential policies to reduce vulnerability to tightening global financial conditions, sharp currency movements, and capital flow reversals. Long-standing advice on the importance of reining in excess credit growth where needed, supporting healthy bank balance sheets, containing maturity and currency mismatches, and maintaining orderly market conditions has become even more relevant in the face of renewed market volatility. In general, allowing for exchange rate flexibility will be an important means for cushioning the impact of adverse external shocks, although the effects of exchange rate depreciations on private and public sector balance sheets and on domestic inflation expectations need to be closely monitored. With debt levels rising rapidly in both emerging and low-income economies over the past decade, fiscal policy should focus on preserving and rebuilding buffers where needed, through growth-friendly measures that protect the most vulnerable. To raise potential growth and enhance its inclusiveness, structural reforms remain essential to alleviate infrastructure bottlenecks, strengthen the business environment, upgrade human capital, and ensure access to opportunities for all segments of society.

- Multilateral cooperation remains vital to address challenges that transcend countries' borders. Global economic integration under an open, rule-based multilateral trade system has raised living standards, helped lift productivity, and spread innovation throughout the world. To preserve and broaden these gains, countries should work together to reduce trade costs further and resolve disagreements without raising tariff and non-tariff barriers. Cooperative global efforts are essential across a range of other areas, such as completing the financial regulatory reform agenda, preventing further build-up of excess global imbalances, strengthening international taxation, and mitigating and coping with climate change. These include the increase in US tariffs on imported solar panels, washing machines, steel, aluminum, and a range of Chinese products, and the announced retaliatory measures by trading partners as of July 6. The effect of the broader trade actions announced by the United States on July 10 is not incorporated in the baseline.

GLOBAL OUTLOOK FOR GROWTH

The June issue of Global Economic Outlook presents the regular monthly overview of recent and expected developments in selected territories, focusing on key economic variables: inflation, GDP growth, leading indicators, interest rates, exchange rates and commodity prices. The analytical section of this issue presents the annual assessment of the forecasts included in GEO, i.e. those issued by international institutions, selected central banks and Consensus Economics. With the benefit of hindsight, it can be said that the monitored institutions tended to be pessimistic with their economic outlooks for 2017. By contrast, they expected higher inflation for the BRIC countries and Japan than the subsequent outcomes. The current outlooks for economic growth in the advanced economies we monitor – except the USA – have decreased, especially for this year. The main uncertainty surrounding the growth outlook stems from global trade, which may be disrupted by US protectionist measures and the reactions of the countries hit by them. Nevertheless, according to current outlooks, the USA will continue to enjoy robust growth of around 3%, despite further monetary policy tightening by the Fed. It raised the target range for its key rate again in June, and another increase is expected this year. The situation in the euro area, whose growth slowed at the start of the year and where monetary policy normalisation keeps being postponed, is rather different. The weaker growth combined with still lower-than-optimal inflation, exacerbated by potential negative developments in some euro area countries (Italy in particular), was probably the main cause of the extension of the quantitative easing programme announced by the ECB after its June meeting. Securities purchases should thus continue into 2018 Q4, albeit at a reduced pace of EUR 15 billion a month. Moreover, the ECB's key rates should remain at their current level at least until summer 2019. The outlooks for the UK and Japan still indicate distinctly lower growth compared to the USA and the euro area and have additionally been lowered slightly for this year. In the case of the UK, this is due mainly to long-running negative Brexit-related factors. The outlooks for UK inflation for 2019 have been reduced compared to last month, so no further increase in interest rates is expected in the near future. In Japan, expected inflation has been lowered for this year and it seems that it will be very hard to lift inflation from its low 1% level. The current outlooks for BRIC countries still expect solid GDP growth rates. The traditionally strong growth outlooks for India and China have been at current levels for several months now, so the June outlook confirms that the downward path of GDP growth in China will be slightly slower than expected a couple of months ago. However, the unusual news from the Chinese economy of a current account deficit and uncertainty regarding the signing of a new trade deal with the USA may upset the positive expectations. By contrast, the Indian economy will return to more than 7.5% growth from its current slightly weaker rates. The inflation estimates for China are relatively low, only just above the 2% level. The expected inflation figure in India was reduced slightly from the previously attacked 5% level, in line with the economic growth in that country. The outlooks for Brazil and Russia generally worsened in the last month, although their expected results are still solid (by post-crisis standards). The Brazilian and Russian economies are expected to grow by around 3% and 2% respectively, amid inflation close to 4%. According to market outlooks, euro area interest rates will remain negative until the end of 2019. By contrast, US interest rates can be expected to keep edging up. According to CF, the US dollar will weaken against all the monitored currencies one year ahead, except for the renminbi, against which it will be broadly stable. The outlook for the Brent crude oil price was little changed from May. According to CF, it will fluctuate around USD 71 a barrel at the one-year horizon. Food commodity prices are expected to offset their recent decline by rising over the outlook horizon, whereas base metals prices are expected to stagnate after their current rise ends.

Government Initiatives

The Union Budget for 2018-19 was announced by Mr. Arun Jaitley, Union Minister for Finance, Government of India, in Parliament on February 1, 2018. This year's budget will focus on uplifting the rural economy and strengthening of the agriculture sector, healthcare for the economically less privileged, infrastructure creation and improvement in the quality of education of the country. As per the budget, the government is committed towards doubling the farmers' income by 2022. India's unemployment rate is expected to be 3.5 per cent in 2018, according to the International Labour Organization (ILO).

Numerous foreign companies are setting up their facilities in India on account of various government initiatives like Make in India and Digital India. Mr. Narendra Modi, Prime Minister of India, has launched the Make in India initiative with an aim to boost the manufacturing sector of Indian economy, to increase the purchasing power of an average Indian consumer, which would further boost demand, and hence spur development, in addition to benefiting investors. The Government of India, under the Make in India initiative, is trying to give boost to the contribution made by the manufacturing sector and aims to take it up to 25 per cent of the GDP from the current 17 per cent. Besides, the Government has also come up with Digital India initiative, which focuses on three core components: creation of digital infrastructure, delivering services digitally and to increase the digital literacy. Some of the recent initiatives and developments undertaken by the government are listed below:

- The Union Cabinet gave its approval to the North-East Industrial Development Scheme (NEIDS) 2017 in March 2018 with an outlay of Rs 3,000 crores (US$ 460 million) up to March 2020.

- The Government of India will spend around Rs 1 lakh crore (US$ 15.62 billion) during FY 18-20 to build roads in the country under Pradhan Mantri Gram Sadak Yojana (PMGSY).
- The Government of India plans to facilitate partnerships between gram panchayats, private companies and other social organizations, to push for rural development under its 'Mission Antyodaya' and has already selected 50,000 panchayats across the country for the same.
- The Government of India and the Government of Portugal have signed 11 bilateral agreements in areas of outer space, double taxation, and nano technology, among others, which will help in strengthening the economic ties between the two countries.
- India's revenue receipts are estimated to touch Rs 28-30 trillion (US$ 436- 467 billion) by 2019, owing to Government of India's measures to strengthen infrastructure and reforms like demonetization and Goods and Services Tax (GST).

Road Ahead

India's gross domestic product (GDP) is expected to reach US$ 6 trillion by FY27 and achieve upper-middle income status on the back of digitization, globalization, favorable demographics, and reforms. India is also focusing on renewable sources to generate energy. It is planning to achieve 40 per cent of its energy from non-fossil sources by 2030 which is currently 30 per cent and also have plans to increase its renewable energy capacity from 57 GW to 175 GW by 2022. India is expected to be the third largest consumer economy as its consumption may triple to US$ 4 trillion by 2025, owing to shift in consumer behaviour and expenditure pattern, according to a Boston Consulting Group (BCG) report; and is estimated to surpass USA to become the second largest economy in terms of purchasing power parity (PPP) by the year 2040, according to a report by PricewaterhouseCoopers.

OUTLOOK FOR 2018-19

State of the Economy: India Outlook

The year 2017 was marked by a number of key structural initiatives to build strength across macro-economic parameters for sustainable growth in the future. The growth in the first half of the year suffered despite global tailwinds. However, the weakness seen at the beginning of 2017, seems to have bottomed out as 2018 set in. Currently, the economy seems to be on the path to recovery, with indicators of industrial production, stock market index, auto sales and exports having shown some uptick (shown below). We believe that India's economic outlook remains promising for FY17-18 and is expected to strengthen further in FY18-19. However, the signs of green shoots should not be taken for granted as downside risks remain.

The biggest challenges for 2018 are as to how the economy can maintain its recovery in the face of increasing inflationary pressures, coupled with a higher fiscal deficit as well as an increasing debt burden. The key to this conundrum lies in the revival of consumer demand and private investment.

India - World Decoupling (GDP, %)

Source: IMF, Deloitte

The objective of this paper is to present an analysis of the current Indian economic scenario along with the expectations from the period ahead.

Decoupled, but still one of the fastest growing economies:

Over the last few quarters, what has become increasingly evident is the divergence between Indian and global growth. This decoupling largely happened as India’s growth was hit on account of mega policy announcements.

One of the other reasons for this can possibly be attributed to shifting real interest rate trends. During 2016, India’s real interest rates followed a downward global trend. However, after this the rates started shifting upwards which affected investment activity, led to currency appreciation and resulted in subdued export activity. In contrast to the economic situation in India, global economic conditions have gained momentum and have possibly created a ripple effect across regions. International Monetary Fund (IMF) has estimated global growth to have grown faster at 3.7% in 2017 against what was earlier projected, with revival largely apparent across Europe and Asia¹. With broad based recovery on the cards, global growth forecast has been moved up by 0.2 percentage points to 3.9% for 2018 and 2019². Growth outlook for the US has been estimated to be positive due to improvement in domestic demand as well as the anticipated boost to the economy by way of U.S. tax policy changes. Across other developed economies, the Euro area saw further expansion on the back of falling unemployment rates, investment optimism, and lower interest rates which have stimulated consumption further, while the effects of strong external demand were visible in Japan where manufacturing activity moved to the upside. Looking ahead, for 2018, it is widely expected that this decoupling will not continue. As per IMF and World Bank, world economy is expected to grow at 3.7% and 3.1%³ in 2018 while the Indian economy is expected to grow at 7.4% and 7.3%, respectively⁴ for 2018. We expect India to grow by 6.7% in FY2017-18 and further by 7.2% in FY2018-19 on account of uptick in investment activity and broader market adjustments to previous market disruptions. Currently, India is the world's seventh-largest economy at USD 2.2 trillion, sitting between France and Italy. A report by World Economic Forum has projected that by 2050, the Indian economy is expected to be the world's second-largest, behind only China.

GLOBAL E-LEARNING MARKET REVIEW

The size of the eLearning market was estimated to be over USD 165 Billion in 2015 and is likely to grow by 5% between 2016 and 2023, exceeding USD 240 Billion. Factors such as the possibility of allocating a lower budget for eLearning purposes (compared to traditional education methods) together with increasing flexibility in learning are expected to drive industry growth. The U.S. eLearning market is likely to be valued at over USD 27 billion by the end of 2016, primarily as a result of the fact eLearning and related products and services have significantly expanded across the region in recent years. Users have developed an appreciation for the ease of access and improved effectiveness new animated, engaging, interactive learning tools provide. Also, as the use of online and mobile devices becomes increasingly prevalent, the e-Learning market is expected to grow over the next years. The adoption of eLearning tools by more and more both academic and non-academic sectors (especially corporate) together with the above-mentioned factors, is expected to positively impact market size, fuel the demand for eLearning services, and drive industry growth over the coming years. User experience across eLearning tools continues to undergo constant improvement, as the service suppliers provide these educational tools through newest available technologies and users are able to benefit from a visually engaging interface and a media-driven learning experience. Further, these services are expected to boost employee productivity, a large part of the reason many firms opt for eLearning solutions over traditional learning methods. Clearly, this factor is also anticipated to positively impact the eLearning market demand over the next five years. The eLearning sector will most likely benefit from the rising interest in distance learning, as well as the expanded use of these services on smartphones, tablets, other mobile devices, and wearable technology. These factors open several possible growing paths for industries engaged in eLearning products and services. At the same time, technology obsolescence and management turnover could become the Achilles heel of a very dynamic and constantly evolving market segment. Vendor-developer partnerships and the need for the need for highly developed IT infrastructure could pose a number of industry challenges over the 2016 to 2023-time range.

Presently, the U.S. represents the leader in the adoption of eLearning technologies and services. This fact supports the belief that North America will likely exhibit significant growth in this sector between 2016 and 2023. According to Ambient Insight Research, a firm that uses quantitative predictive analytics to identify revenue opportunities for global eLearning and mobile learning suppliers, global revenues for self-paced eLearning reached $46.6 billion in 2016, a slight decrease compared to the $46.9 billion seen in 2015. For reference, the self-paced eLearning market is part of the larger eLearning market and includes LMS, authoring tools, packaged content, and services related to the three main categories.

According to Ambient Insight Research, the worldwide five-year compound annual growth rate(CAGR) for self-paced eLearning is distinctly negative at -6.4%. This means global revenues for this market segment are actually dropping steadily due to the switch towards more effective knowledge transfer methodologies, Ambient Insight asserts. Of the 122 countries tracked by Ambient Insight, only 15 show a positive (more than 15%) growth rate for self-paced eLearning. Ed tech startups attracted 416 funding deals in 2016, worth a total of $1.7 billion. At this pace, the total amount will be $2.2B by the end of the 2016. Currently, funding to ed-tech startups remains concentrated in the US. Outside of the US, India ranks second, with China in third position and the UK coming in fourth.

China

According to Technode, more people are willing to pay for professional exam preparation and testing principally because China’s population is growing and there is increasing competition for reliable jobs. The online education market is growing at a fast rate to meet the increasing demand. In 2016 China was ranked 2nd by Ambient Insight between the top-buying countries for self-paced eLearning.

China Buyer Segment	Amount
Consumer	$959.97
Corporation & Businesses	$1,246.27
Pre K-12 Academic	$1,583.10
Higher Education	$698.92
Federal Education	$509.46
Provincial and Municipal Governments	$265.25
Total	$5,262.98

Consumers in China are driving the growth of mobile learning market. Mobile penetration rates are overwhelmingly higher than PC penetration rates in China. “In the US and Europe, you have one billion people who started using the internet on PCs,” MOX managing director and SOSV partner William Bao Bean tells Tech in Asia. “In China, one billion people will soon be online, first on mobile – the largest mobile-only population in the world. That’s the next billion.” According to Ambient Insight, there are two major trends in China’s eLearning market: the proliferation (and fail rate) of online education startups and the growing number of large Internet companies entering the market. Baidu, Alibaba, and Tencent are the largest Internet companies in China. They all entered the commercial eLearning and mobile learning markets in 2013 and 2014 and all of them are now adding mobile features or moving completely to mobile formats.

USA

According to Ambient Insight, the U.S. eLearning market size should be over USD 27 billion by the end of 2016. The North American region currently accounts for more than 50% of the total self-paced eLearning market share. According to the latest market study released by Technavio, the market size of the global corporate eLearning market is predicted to reach close to USD 31 billion in revenue by the end of 2020. Due to the growing preference towards continuous learning, many corporates have become more conscious about effectively using their technologies to deliver content and accessibility to the content from anywhere and anytime. This change in the focus towards continuous learning will lead to the growth of the market in this region during the next 5 years. According to GSV the Corporate segment of the US Education market was valued around $236B in 2015 and is predicted to reach $310B by 2020.

Particulars	Amount
North America	$23,337.4
Latin America	$2,106.0
Western Europe	$7,978.6
Eastern Europe	$1,024.8
Asia	$10,936.5
Middle East	$683.7
Africa	$607.7
Total	$46,674.7

According to Ambient Insight, revenues for mobile learning products and services reached $1.6 billion in the US in 2014. Revenues are expected to reach $2.1 billion by 2019. Mobile learning revenues in the US are heavily concentrated in the consumer segment, while US corporations were slow adopters of mobile learning tools. A relatively recent trend is the focus on corporate buyers by AR (augmented reality) services and platform suppliers. United States is also the top-buying nation of education-focused games, followed by Japan, South Korea, China, and India. A corporate-facing Game-based Learning company called mLevel obtained $5 million in funding in July 2015. Gam Effective also serves the corporate segment and garnered $7 million in private investment in June 2016. Markets and Markets forecasts that the global talent management software market is expected to grow from $5,270.3 million in 2014 to $11,367.0 million by 2019, at a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 16.6%. In the current scenario, North America is expected to be the largest market from the spending and adoption of talent management software point of view.

Europe

According to Ambient Insight, the self-paced eLearning market size in Western Europe eLearning market is around USD 8billion in 2016, while Eastern Europe market is around $1billion. The spur in the region can be subjected to increasing adoption of these solutions in medium and small sized businesses. The largest buying country in Eastern Europe is the Russian Federation. The UK is the largest buying country in Western Europe. Europe is a mature market where all the classic buyers (school, government, high education and corporate) for eLearning product and services are highly demanding. The rise of demand for continuous learning in Europe will increase the adoption of different learning methodologies and products.

Latin America

There is a strong demand for Latin American companies and governments to provide industry with a highly-trained workforce. Latin America is looking for innovative and efficient techniques to bridge the skills gaps and increase productivity levels, safety standards and overall efficiency. According to a Global Market Insight Report Latin America (LATAM) is expected to witness considerable growth from 2016 to 2020. LATAM eLearning market share was valued around USD 2.1 billion in 2016 and is likely to grow at a CAGR of over 14% over the next five years.

With more than 600 million people, and an educational system that has lagged behind the developed world and hasn't been accessible to everyone, Latin America indeed presents an interesting opportunity for ed tech players. Digital English language learning products is a subsector of the self-paced eLearning market that will have a huge growth in LATAM with a CAGR of around 14%, according to Ambient Insight. The two largest eLearning buying countries in Latin America are Brazil and Mexico. Santillana is the largest education publisher in Latin America; 35% of their global revenues are generated in

Brazil

In recent years, several countries in Latin America have adopted MOOCs on a larger scale. Mexico and Brazil are two of the 10 countries that use MOOCs the most worldwide. Veduca is a Brazilian MOOC which offers more than 300 free online courses in 21 knowledge areas.

According to OECD, thanks to eLearning, access to education by traditionally excluded groups has increased. 68% of universities report eLearning has benefitted people living in rural areas, 53% report benefits to women, 50% to low-income groups, and 38% to people with disabilities. The Inter-American Development Bank, in partnership with EdX, created the IDBx platform to offer online courses focused on economic and social development. Mobile learning will be the preferred product in the next years in LATAM, especially in Brazil. According to Ambient Insight, revenues for mobile learning products and services in Brazil reached $338.3 million in 2014. The growth rate is a robust 25.7% and revenues will surge to over $1.0 billion by 2019. Brazil generates the largest revenues for mobile learning in Latin America by a wide margin.

Middle East

Many countries in the Middle East region are working on ‘-ization’ programs in order to diversify their economies and ensure human capital meets the requirements for the future workforce. Vocational programs are gaining popularity and the digital revolution has a big part to play in this process. The governments of the GCC are actively striving to lessen their dependence on both their petroleum-based economies as well as the large expatriate populations that make up the majority of human resources in the workplace. According to Ambient Insight the self-paced eLearning market in Middle East will be around $690m by the end of 2016. Turkey and Egypt are the largest buyers in the Middle East. English is widely considered to be the language of business for the region, as well as the key to careers abroad. It is therefore a focus of many countries’ education systems to improve the quality of their ELT approach and delivery, in order to better opportunities for students.

India

According to industry experts, the future of education in India will depend on online courses. Currently half of the population is actually under 25 years of age and India is expected to be facing a shortage of 250 million skilled workers by 2022. As of 2015, India is already the second largest market for eLearning after the United States. However, in terms of revenue India is ranked fourth by Ambient Insight in the top seventeen eLearning buying countries in 2016. The sector is expected to reach $1.29 billion by 2018, growing at 17% CAGR. This can be attributed to increasing regulatory initiatives such as government-funded literacy development projects in small villages and rural areas. This measure is forecast to drive the industry demand in the region. Corporate training market is disproportionately small, with estimated spends of only 1-2% of employee costs and a total outlay of less than $1 billion.

Given the inadequacies in India’s current education system that does not adequately provide for vocational and employment-ready skills, a significant portion of organizational training budgets, even at leading IT services companies, goes towards entry-level skill building. Infosys, for example, has vast resources and an entire campus in Mysore, dedicated to training 25,000+ fresh recruits for 3-6 months every year. Even the government’s skilling initiatives are entirely focused on imparting employability-related skills for millions of working-age youth. There is an ambitious initiative underway to impart job skills to 500 million people by 2022 under the Skill India Mission. India internet users are expected to reach 500 million by 2017, of which nearly 2/3rds are expected to be on mobile. Mobile learning is going to have a massive impact on the training industry in India. According to Ambient Insight, by 2019 India will be the third top-buying country for mobile learning.

Tuition culture is prevalent in India with estimates of over 71M students taking tuition to supplement their school education. Adoption of online supplementary courses is limited suggesting potential for strong growth in the future. This growth is likely to be driven by (i) evolving consumer behaviour wherein students are looking for detailed understanding of subjects rather than just clearing the examinations, and (ii) demand from tier 2 and 3 cities. Research indicates that modular content with smaller average transaction values could help in increasing consumer adoption in the future.

- c. Lack of awareness: Lack of awareness of online offerings proves to inhibit rapid growth of the category.

User profile, channel and device preferences and key challenges

Who is the current user?

Adoption in this category is much higher among science students in higher secondary. These students prefer quality supplementary content to aid them in preparation for competitive exams, in addition to the school curriculum. Commerce/arts students adopting online courses are relatively lower on account of limited content availability. Academic background of higher secondary level students opting for online education:

Why are students opting for online education?

Online adoption is driven by convenience and availability of variety of courses. The online channel is viewed as a convenient mode of supplementary education which allows students to study at home and at the same time offers a wide variety of courses.

How is online content consumed?

A multi-channel approach is adopted by students as they progress through levels. Students access large sized content such as video sessions and assignments on laptops, while the other content is largely consumed on mobile phones. This makes it critical for players to have a multi-device offering in this category.

What are the key challenges faced by students adopting online education?

Content pricing is cited as one of the challenges for online students. Responses indicate need for more variety of content at affordable prices for increased adoption.

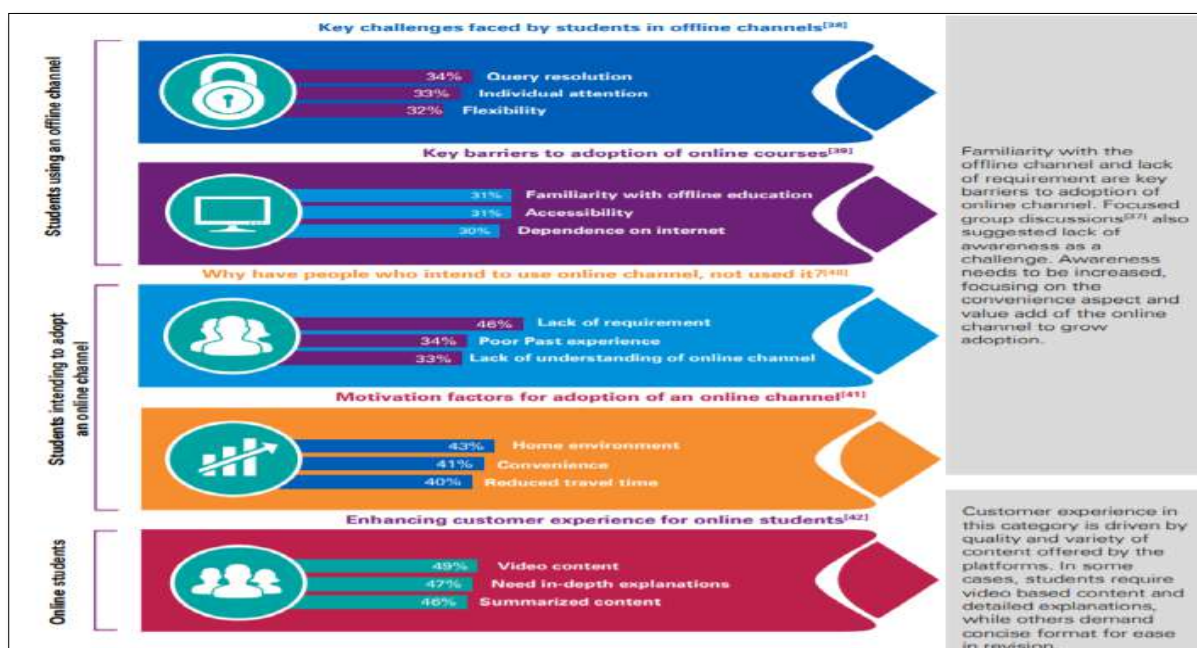

Brand Selection

Why do students choose a specific brand?

Peer review and feedback play a key role in discovery and selection of a platform. Online players need to focus on efficient feedback mechanism to have higher preference amongst target users. The purchase decision is driven by quality of study material available on the platforms. The perceived value of the course by students is also important in the selection of a specific platform. A student’s engagement level with a brand is on account of access to online content anytime, anywhere. The time saved on commute as against the offline channel is also a key aspect driving engagement levels.

Acquisition and retention of online customers

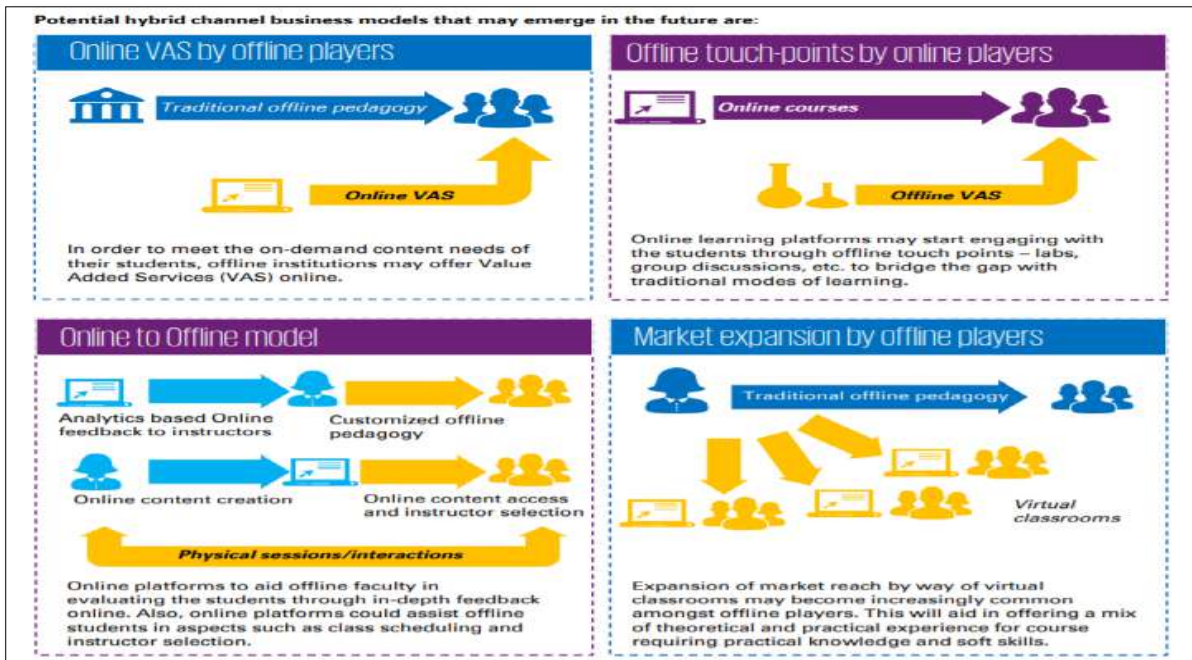

Future outlook:

Increased demand in domestic market and export opportunities in select Asian markets is expected to drive the future for online primary and secondary supplemental education.

- New age learning techniques can have a significant impact on the adoption of online channel for this category
- Value added services such as career counselling and enhanced progress tracking could further increase adoption levels
- Players in this segment have witnessed demand from overseas; West Asian countries (e.g.- UAE, Kuwait) are emerging as an attractive export opportunity for this category.

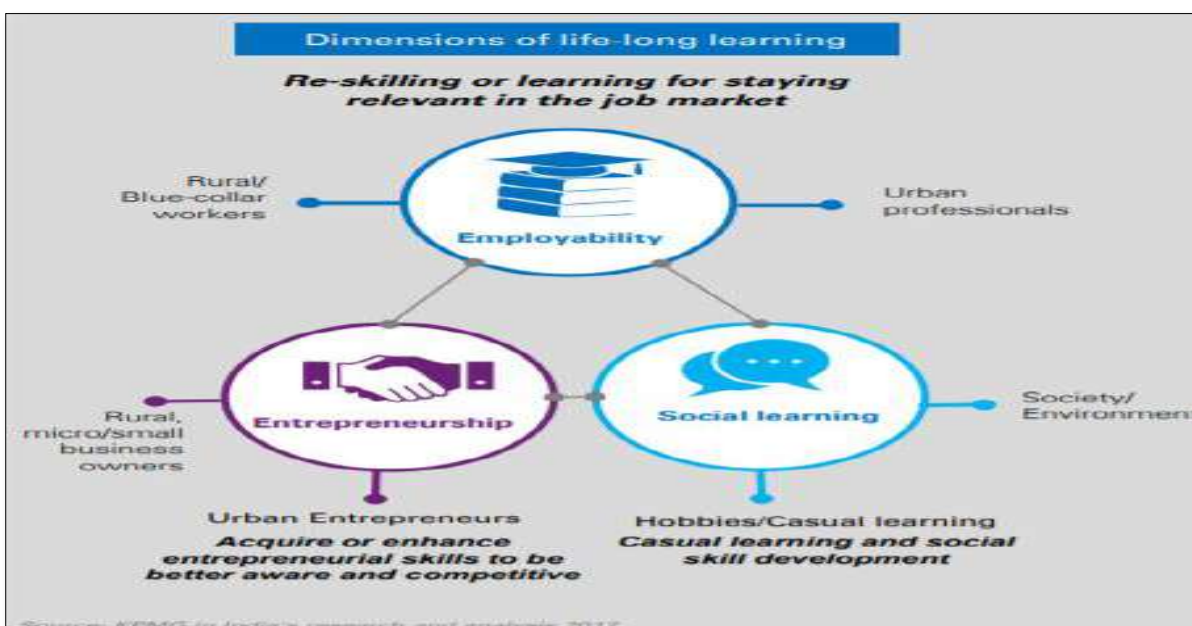

Hybrid channel adoption by existing traditional and online players:

In the future, online education will continue to gain popularity among prospective learners including students and professionals driven by aspects such as easy and on-demand access to content, self-paced learning opportunities and interactive & modular means of learning. However, nearly one third of online learners also believe that online education does not substitute traditional learning due to lack of interaction with peers and instructors. Low completion rates of online certification courses due to lack of feedback and interactions further underlines the need to have multiple touch-points with the learners for improved engagement levels. Virtual class rooms could also emerge as an asset- light model for offline players to expand their network across geographies. The learner will therefore demand ubiquitous presence of learning and content, where each channel may serve a different need.

Online education will evolve the concept of continuous learning:

Online education has reduced the age constraint for learning. Individuals across age groups have the opportunity to conveniently work on knowledge improvement and skill building activities, for personal and professional applications from anywhere, at any time, which has given impetus to the concept of continuous learning. Continuous learning gains further importance in today's fast paced knowledge-based economy, with rapid advancement in terms of technology and a regular need for newer skills and competencies. It encompasses learning across formal, informal and non-formal learning. Improvement of the skills and abilities of the workforce also has far reaching consequences in strengthening the country's economy. Continuous learning can be understood through three different aspects: employability, entrepreneurship and social learning. Each dimension could be further classified by the type of learner or interest levels.

Professional and urban entrepreneurs

Professionals and urban entrepreneurs, with higher disposable income and awareness about the online medium, could be directly targeted by the online platforms. These learners will look at re-skilling or up-skilling in order to succeed in the organized job market. Monetization of product offerings from this target group could be higher than other potential learners.

Blue-collared and rural entrepreneurs

- Blue-collar workers and rural entrepreneurs (small business owners, farmers, etc.) can be connected through alliances with existing channel owners.
- For instance, leading FMCG companies have started multiple programs to empower rural entrepreneurs. Partnering with such companies could offer access to a new market, with a B2B business model. Courses offered to rural entrepreneurs can range from business accounting, supply chain management to market intelligence and data analytics.
- While the market for casual learning may continue to grow among urban internet users, social learning may not see immediate consumer demand. This content could be employability and entrepreneurship related courses. The concept of continuous learning has already been partially employed through multiple business models, focusing on different stages of education of an individual. However, the opportunity remains in exploring new modes of delivery which are relevant to a consumer segment and online education channel will be critical to enhance this opportunity.
Evolution of business models based on changing customer requirement
- Consumer to consumer (C2): The online channel has been increasingly gaining acceptance amongst the student base in India. This network of students can interact with each other by sharing notes, ideas and engaging in constructive dialogue on a common platform. Many P2P based start-ups are emerging in the online education space, especially in the K12 and reskilling and certification space
- Business to business: Online platforms can act as enablers to provide an enriching learning experience through integration of similar academic institutions along with the teachers and students
- In case of primary and secondary education, this will stimulate parental engagement and overall development of the student
- Recently, an Indian start up created a network for central government schools by bringing on board over a million students.
Co-developed Content:
The online education ecosystem will witness collaborations between platform providers and corporates in the future.
- The online players could partner with the industry to co-develop content that is relevant in the present job market
- Reskilling and online certifications & could see employment offered to certified students. This could be facilitated by corporate partnerships in relevant industries.
Value added services:

Industry collaborations provide an opportunity to offer unique value-added services to the students.

These could be in the form of:

- Internship opportunities: Platforms could offer internship opportunities to high-performing students. These internships could be designed along with the industry partners.
- Short-term assignments and live projects: Online education players could have industry experts to design live projects for students. Industry players can assign short term assignments to students which will enhance the overall learning process and provide the required practical experience.

OUR REVENUE MODEL

Contextual Advertising:

Contextual advertising is a form of targeted advertising for ads appearing on websites or other media, such as content displayed in mobile browsers. The advertisements themselves are selected and served by automated systems based on the identity of the user and the content displayed. A contextual advertising system scans the text of a website for keywords and returns advertisements to the webpage based on those keywords. The advertisements may be displayed on the webpage or as pop-up ads.

For example, if the user is viewing a website pertaining to cars and that website uses contextual advertising, the user may see advertisements for car-related companies.

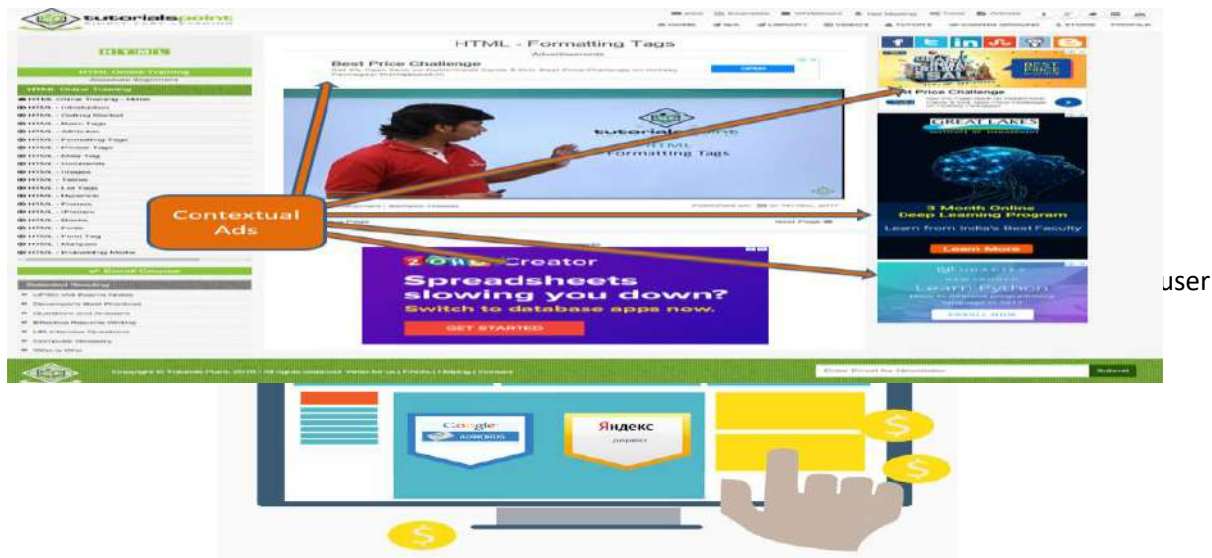

Target users viewing content with keywords that have been designated by the advertiser.

Contextual advertising is a form of targeted advertising in which the content of an ad is in direct correlation to the content of the web page the user is viewing. An example of contextual advertising is an ad offering a special price on a flight to Italy appearing on a website concerning travelling in Europe.

Contextual advertising is also called "In-Text" advertising or "In-Context" technology. Apart from that when a visitor doesn't click on the ad in a go through time (a minimum time a user must click on the ad) the ad is automatically changed to next relevant ad showing the option below of going back to the previous ad.

Contextual advertising has made a major impact on earnings of many websites. Because the advertisements are more targeted, they are more likely to be clicked, thus generating revenue for the owner of the website (and the server of the advertisement).

Tutorials Point is a platform to advertisements related to the content on our pages or search that the user makes while surfing. Each of our web page, when visited by the user, displays the ads as per user's search. For example, a user in the under mentioned image must be searching for some Institutes/college having management courses, International tour packages or some new spreadsheets programs etc. Now, Google AdSense shows all the relevant ads as per user's search preferences while he visits our page to learn tutorials.

Our revenue is generated on the basis of above two situations. Thus, when a user clicks the ad, we earn by “Cost per Click” method (CPC) and if the user just visits our website and does not click any ad then we earn by “Cost per View” (CPV) or “Cost per thousand Impression” (CPM) method.

All the calculations on clicks, visits and impressions are tracked by Google Analytics. It must be noted that the revenue as per CPC/ CPV/ CPM will differ from each other. Further, even for apple to apple comparison (i.e. CPC vs CPC, CPV vs CPV or CPM vs CPM), revenue on two different ads with same method will differ.

All the revenue earned through contextual advertising depends on the amount paid by the advertiser to Google for display of ad on Website. Google then allocates ads to all the websites where the users have searched for solutions that advertisers deal in. Example, there will be many users searching for flight fares and visiting different websites, so Google AdSense will show the Ads for Airlines Companies on the websites which are visited by the users. This will be Real-time and will be shown in various websites simultaneously worldwide.

Google Singapore has helped Tutorialspoint (India) Limited pull traffic to the website from around the globe. Ads help our website gain more audience. Contextual advertising acts as the fuel for the revenue generation system of Tutorialspoint.

Google robots pitch in and serve the most relevant ads to our users. For instance, a user while browsing through a tutorial on Big Data may see a related ad on a conference on Big Data posted on our page.

The CPC, CPV and CPM advertising within the Google Network are the major revenue-generating mechanisms for Tutorialspoint. We generate profits from ads posted on our pages when a user clicks on the ads posted on our page and by simply displaying the ads on the pages.

Website:

With internet being easily accessible, we have a good number of students as well as working professionals who want to learn online, as opposed to following the traditional method of reading from books. There are few websites that provide online education services, but more often than not, an interested reader would have to search multiple websites to get hold of relevant information. Our website acts as a bridge to fill this gap by providing quality tutorials that are both comprehensive and easy to access.

It is a content-oriented time where the user's preferences and expectations change every day. We hook & level up those expectations with our earnest team working round the clock to understand such needs and preferences & deliver the content on those lines. We understand user's preference using 'Google Analytics Tools'. Google Analytics is a freemium web analytics service offered by Google that tracks and reports website traffic. We use such metrics to understand user's behavior and keep a daily track of it. Our Analytics team which is constantly working on analytics data, integrates with the content team and discuss onto how to create, update and publish the tutorials that will meet user exigency.

YouTube:

We also have a YouTube account in name of "Tutorialspoint (India) Pvt. Ltd". All YouTube creators can apply to join the YouTube Partner Program as long as it is available in. After a channel hits 4,000 watch hours in the previous 12 months and 1,000 subscribers, its activity will be reviewed against YouTube's policies. If everything looks good, the channel becomes a part of YouTube Partner Program which begin serving ads on our channel. In YouTube, we make money based on people's engagement with the ad. Engagement here means clicking or watching an ad for more than 30 seconds. YouTube Advertising is managed in the AdWords platform. Advertisers choose ads on a Cost Per Click (CPC) or Cost Per View (CPV) model. Our channel has more than 8 lakhs subscribers from around 190 countries. Our reach goes far beyond India with core active users in countries like India, USA, Canada, Australia, UK, Germany, Saudi Arabia, Singapore, Philippines, South Africa, Sri Lanka, Pakistan and many more.

It should be noted that payments are calculated solely based on Google's accounting. We acknowledge and agree that we are only entitled to payment for your use of the Services for which Google has been paid; if, for any reason, Google does not receive payment from an advertiser or credit such payment back to an advertiser, we are not entitled to be paid for any associated use of the Services. Additionally, if an advertiser whose Ads are displayed on our Property defaults on payment to Google, it may withhold payment or charge back our Account. As between us and Google, Google is responsible for all taxes (if any) associated with the transactions between Google and advertisers in connection with Ads displayed on the website. We are responsible for all taxes (if any) associated with the Services, other than taxes based on Google's net income. The Department of Telecommunications (“DoT”) has framed telemarketing guidelines which regulate commercial messages transmitted through telecommunication services. These guidelines require any person or entity engaged in telemarketing to obtain registration from the DoT. Telemarketing guidelines were issued by the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (“TRAI”) as the Telecom Unsolicited Commercial Communications Regulations, 2007 (“Unsolicited Communications Regulations”). The Unsolicited Communications Regulations required telemarketers to, inter alia, obtain registration and discontinue the transmission of unsolicited commercial messages to telephone subscribers registered with a national database established under the regulations. The Unsolicited Communications Regulations have now been replaced with the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference Regulations, 2010 (“TCCCPR”) issued by the TRAI on 1st December, 2010. The TCCCPR prohibit the transmission of unsolicited commercial communication via calls or SMS, except commercial communication relating to certain categories specifically chosen by the subscribers, certain exempted transactional messages and any message transmitted on the directions of the Government or their authorized agencies, impose penalties on access providers for any violations, require setting-up customer complaint registration facilities by access providers and provide for blacklisting of telemarketers in specified cases. Further, TCCCPR prohibit the transmission of commercial messages other than between 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Under TCCCPR, no person, or legal entity who subscribes to a telecom service provided by an access provider, may make any commercial communication without obtaining a registration as a telemarketer from the TRAI.

state government. IGST is an Indian innovation which would help tax move along with goods/services, across states and therefore reduce refund situations at state borders. GST is expected to bring a significant shift from origin-based taxation to a destination-based tax structure. This is likely to impact not only the operating business models but also the revenues of the centre/states. It has the potential to impact cash flow, pricing, working capital, supply chain and IT systems and hence provides an opportunity to transform your business. 500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

In case the Bid Amount exceeds Rs. 2,00,000/- due to revision of the Bid or any other reason, the Bid may be considered for allocation under the Non-Institutional Category (with it not being eligible for Discount, if any) then such Bid may be rejected if it is at the Cut-off Price.

For NRIs, a Bid Amount of up to Rs. 2,00,000/- may be considered under the Retail Category for the purposes of allocation and a Bid Amount exceeding Rs. 2,00,000/- may be considered under the Non-Institutional Category for the purposes of allocation.

- Bids by QIBs and NIIs must be for such minimum number of shares such that the Bid Amount exceeds Rs. 2,00,000/- and in multiples of such number of Equity Shares thereafter, as may be disclosed in the Bid cum Application Form and the RHP/Prospectus, or as advertised by the Issuer, as the case may be. Non-Institutional Investors and QIBs are not allowed to Bid at Cut off Price.
 - RII may revise or withdraw their bids until Bid/ Issue Closing Date. QIBs and NII's cannot withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after Bidding and are required to pay the Bid Amount upon submission of the Bid.

 - A Bid cannot be submitted for more than the Issue size.
- The maximum Bid by any Bidder including QIB Bidder should not exceed the investment limits prescribed for them under the applicable laws.
 - The price and quantity options submitted by the Bidder in the Bid cum Application Form may be treated as optional bids from the Bidder and may not be cumulated. Bidder shall have the option to make a maximum of Bids at three different price levels in the Bid cum Application Form and such options are not considered as multiple Bids. - Bidders are requested to note the following procedures may be followed by the Registrar to the Issue to detect multiple Bids:
 - All Bids may be checked for common PAN as per the records of the Depository. For Bidders other than Mutual Funds and FII sub-accounts, Bids bearing the same PAN may be treated as multiple Bids by a Bidder and may be rejected.
 - For Bids from Mutual Funds and FII sub-accounts, submitted under the same PAN, as well as Bids on behalf of the PAN Exempted Bidders, the Bid cum Application Forms may be checked for common DP ID and Client ID. Such Bids which have the same DP ID and Client ID may be treated as multiple Bids and are liable to be rejected.

Only in cases where the RHP/Prospectus indicates that part payment may be made, such an option can be exercised by the Bidder. RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government, the FDI Policy and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The government bodies responsible for granting foreign investment approvals are FIPB and the RBI.

The Government has from time to time made policy pronouncements on FDI through press notes and press releases. The Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India (“DIPP”), issued consolidated FDI Policy, which with effect from August 28, 2017 consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DIPP that were in force and effect as on August 28, 2017. The Government proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI Policy once every year and therefore, the Consolidation FDI Policy will be valid until the DIPP issues an updated circular. The Government has also enacted Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations, 2017 in suppression of Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or issue of Security by a Person Resident outside India) Regulations, 2000.
